Resolved. That as the capacity of the negro for self government has not been proved by his past history in any part of the world, so it is disproved by his actual condition here at the present

Resolved, That laws which affect the social relations of a people are only to be ventured on with caution, and are attended with danger; and that a forced equality of races involves a calamity to the black race no less than degradation to the white.

Resolved, That no organized govern-ment can continue to exist without limi-tations on its power, and that such limitations as have heretofore been placed on the right of suffrage, while it leaves nethe right of suffrage, while it leaves he-groes in no worse condition than minors, Indians, women and foreigners, are proper and just; that while bad rulers may die or be displaced, the prostitution of the ballot and the pollution of the source of popular government is, in a republic, the crown of evils and a calamity which admits of no civil remedy. Resolved, That we are in favor of the equality of the negro before the law, but not of his power over the law, of his right to acquire, possess, enjoy, convey and transmit property, to sue and be sued, to testify in courts of justice, to be in all things protected in his rights of person and property by the most careful provi-sions of the law, and that he have in short all rights and guaranties, except that of equal participation in making the laws, for which he is manifestly incompetent, and except the rights and privileges of a social equality.

Resolved, That whereas the present State constitution was devised and adopted under the auspices and the instructions of the late Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, in a Federal ident of the United States, in a receral camp, by men approved as loyal at a time when the most rigorous tests of loyalty were applied; and whereas, the same is not only republican in form, but in fact, and has met with the approbation of the great majority of the white men of the State, therefore, we are opposed at present to any organic change in our at present to any organic change in our

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that it is the sense of this convention that the Constitution of the United States is binding upon the Government as well as the people, in time of war as well as in peace; and that it is the supreme law at all times, in all places and under all circumstances.

Resolved, That we will support the regular nominees of the National Demo cratic or Conservative Convention for President and Vice President of the United States; and that we leave it to the discretion of our delegates to that Convention to make such choice in their votes in the election of such candidates as may at the time seem to them most erable twaddle, and, after one act of glit-Convention to make such choice in their advisable, not believing it to be proper at this time to trammel them with instructions in reference thereto.

Miles O'Reilly Creates a Flutter in the Radical Camp. New York Cor. Louisville Courier.}

Miles O'Reilly has thrown a horrible Loyal League, and the "narrow-minded blockheads" are dancing about in a for his treachery, and calling upon the people to stand by Andrew Johnson. Then the Tribune came down sharply on Miles for going back on Grant and sounding the tocsin of alarm, and Miles next astonished the Tribune and everybody else by blurting out, in his homorous way, the fact that the article was written in the Loyal League club-house, and sent to him from that sanctuary of the unco-righteous. Quite naturally this disclosure produced great commotion in Union Square, and the members of the club are fearfully anxious to have who among them has turned to know who among them has turned traitor and trained his guns upon Grant. by insurance. The Gorilla and the Negro.

Mr. P. B. DuChaillu, the famous Af-Convention of Arkansas has just closed rican explorer, has just returned in the its two days' session at Little Rock, and nick of time after having explored a conwas one of the ablest bodies ever con- siderable portion of equatorial Africa, was one of the ablest bodies ever con-vened in the State. It has adopted the following resolutions:

siderable portion of equatorial Africa, such States exist! Or else we must, by and has given a series of lectures in some following resolutions: of the cities of the West. He has also Resolved, That we are in favor of a published several interesting works de-WHITE MAN'S government in a WHITE scriptive of his travels and of his discoveries as to the character and habits of the gorilla. He is announced in the New York Herald as about to commence a lecturing tour throughout the United States. He has lived among thirty different tribes of negroes and spent several years in making his explorations. He speaks simply as a man of science, and his lectures, should he take Memphis in his route, will doubtless prove intensely interesting. The New York Herald says:

The public mind is ripe for just such facts with regard to the negro race as Mr. DuChaillu has presented in his books, and will present in his lectures. Not being a politician or partisan in any sense, and simply treating the subject in a scientific point of view, he will be listened to by all parties and classes. He should, by all means, go to Washington, and enlighten the pro-negro and anti-negro members of Congress on the subject of races. The hall of the Represen-tatives should be assigned to him for this purpose. This would be a more appropriate use of it than when used by strong priate use of it than when used by strong-minded women lecturers and for other equally objectionable purposes. It may be profitable, perhaps, for our negro-worshiping Congressmen to learn how far the gorilla and negro of Africa are removed from the white Caucasian race of this country. The continent of Africa, as Mr. Du Chaillu shows, is the oldest; but whether the negro inhabitants are the oldest race of the human family, or whether, as some maintain, all of the four great divisions—the Negro, the Mongolian, the American Iudian and the Caucasian—are descended from the same stock, is of little consequence in view of the actual and great difference that exists This latter is the paramount question now that an effort is being made to put the highest and the lowest of these races on a political and social level. It may be useful to know that the negro, through all his long history, has never emerged from barbarism, not even partially, when not under the influence of a superior race, and that he inevitably returns to barbarism from even a partially civilized state when left to himself. It might do good to instruct our legislators at this time in the operations of the laws of nature upon attempts to amalgamate different races—to show that hybrids cannot continue to exist—that nature has pro-nounced against it, and that wherever political and social equality has been attempted between races in which nature has established inequality, society has be-come disorganized, revolutionary and incessant trouble. The white race may be debased, and, in fact, is debased, by such efforts, and the black man is not elevated. efforts, and the black man is not elevated. Indeed, the black man, after doing immense mischief, and demoralizing the white race generally, is pushed out of existence. Here is a vast and highly interesting subject which Mr. DuChaillu has profoundly studied, and which his experience will enable him to elucidate experience will enable him to better than any other man. We hope he will go from one end of the country to the other in his proposed lecturing tour; for he may make it as profitable to him-self as it will be useful to the community.

The White Fawn.

Speaking of this last spectacular sensation, a New York correspondent says: This illegitimate offspring of the Black Crook is, I am happy to say, in a fair way of proving a total failure. The public wearies of legs, and a dreary run of a play that commences at eight p.m. and ends tering nakedness, the pruriest public demands something new, that the managers cannot supply. One can season one's food until seasoning ceases to have any effect.

JOHN TRENT & CO.

The place has never been visited by epidemic of any kind, and peculiarly characteristic of its healthfulness is the longevity of the inhabitants. The oldest citizens of Shelby county are residents of Raleigh.

The Springs are as much recorted to by pleasure-seckers as by invalide, owing to beauty of senery and various stifficial as well as natural attractions. Connected with the Springs are a Pavilion, Ladies' Bowling Alley, Rustic Arbors, Reading Saloon, Gent's Bowling Alley, Saloon, Billiard Room, Gymnasiuma, Refreshment Tables, etc., while Wolf river affords excellent Boating and Fishing.

The ground accompanying the Springs, in the above scheme and included in the First Prine, is fifteen acres in extent, avorlooking the valley, and affords in addition to a magnificent site for a grand hotel and other buildings, splendid facilities for a park, pramenades, etc.

An analysis of the several Spring, by distinguished medical men, shows that they are unsurpassed in mineral and curative properties by any in the United States. There is no reason then why Raleigh should not become as famous as Saratora, Sharon or Le anon, and as laresty patronised. It needs only capital and enterprise to accomplish this end.

A charter is before the State Legislature for the mearpeasure of the Springs, and a movement has been inaugurated looking to direct railcommunication with Memphis.

For this prize, $20,000 was recently offered, which was declined, in order that the above scheme may be fully carried out.
